

New Guinea Singing Dog

Scientific Name: Canis dingo hallstromi

Native Range: Canis dingo hallstromi

Fun Fact: Singing dogs must hunt in steep areas covered by trees, which has given them extremely flexible spines and joints. They are kind of catlike in some ways, and they can even jump and climb trees! These are all adaptations that allow them to thrive in the steep, heavily forested lands.